

We're listening to you!

We're working on updates and enhancements to the College Scope Student Success Program, but it will still include your favorite things:

- Comprehensive text that includes topics from college, career and lifelong success. In the new edition, all the career-related chapters are grouped together.
- Online portfolios for faculty to easily monitor student progress and communicate with students and for students to summarize their work. Interactive online features engage students in learning.
- Valid and reliable assessments are included, from DWYA (Do What You Are) to PEPS LSI (Productivity Environmental Preference Survey Learning Style Inventory) and Multiple Intelligences. Pre and post tests are also included.
- Quality faculty resources and training.

For faculty members who prefer a traditional printed textbook, College and Career Success is available. It includes DWYA and PEPS LSI, but does not include the portfolios or other online features.

In Spring 2011 you'll notice that...

- All students begin CollegeScope for free! Students can complete the Content Survey (pre-test) and Chapter 1, Understanding Motivation, without an access code or fee. To access the remaining chapters and assessments, students pay online or use a simplified 6-digit access code they can purchase from the bookstore. This new feature will insure that all students get started within the critical first two weeks of the semester to maximize student retention and success.
- Two scholarships are provided for each course section. You will receive two free access codes for each course section which can be used to help students in need.
- Students will complete the assessments along with each matching chapter. Students will complete the DWYA personality assessment with the personality chapter and PEPS LSI along with the learning style chapter.
- Enhanced faculty training is now available. All faculties have access to training workshops. New online webinars are provided for individuals and small groups. Training includes basic navigation, getting the most from CollegeScope features, helping your students to log in and use the program, and administration of the assessments.

In Fall 2011 you'll see...

- Updated career trends that include “green jobs”, jobs in technology and social media, healthcare and e-commerce.
- New Multiple Intelligences assessment to help students think positively by discovering their multiple intelligences.
- Strengths-based focus as students explore their personality strengths, values, interests and multiple intelligences as a foundation for building lifelong personal and career success.
- Development of self-responsibility when students make good career choices, set goals for the future and manage time effectively to reach their goals.
- Emphasis on positive thinking and hope for the future by developing optimism, hope and future-mindedness to increase student success.
- Revised journal entry requirements will help developmental students with writing skills by providing scaffolding such as topic sentences, brief outlines and lists of possible ideas to develop their responses. There will be only five journal entries per chapter.
- Motivational quotes to inspire students to be successful.
- Humor in every chapter with cartoons designed to emphasize important topics.
- Developing your e-learning style with new sections to help students to learn online.
- New Career Interest Profiler assessment to help students to identify their vocational interests and matching careers.
- New graphics to illustrate major points and enhance visual learning.
